What experience do you have of foraging?

Where, when, what and with who??? Good or not so good experiences?

How have you previously checked that foraged plants were the real thing? Was it effective?

Why shouldn't we harvest roots in the city?

Pollution near your home: (Animals, people, transport, cars, trains etc)

For each, how can you limit the risks of eating the pollution.

Is foraging really legal in your area?

Find a link to the endangered plants list in your country/region.

Contact name/department of the council ecology team (who may be able to give information about local rare plants, animals, contaminated land, disused land etc)

Local expert foragers (advice & experience)

How will you enrich the land, when you forage?

List any endangered edible or medicinal plants in your region or country
